

AMBROSE

Biography:

In 2006, musical mastermind Zak Ambrose founded his band, "Ambrose," for one reason...to re-ignite the dormant fuse that is rock music. Ambrose is taking the Los Angeles music scene by storm, performing numerous shows at classic venues along the Sunset Strip, including headlining gigs at The Roxy, The Viper Room, and The House of Blues. The band performs regularly at The Key Club, booking the best supporting acts from all over Los Angeles, all while nurturing the home-grown music scene on the Sunset Strip. Ambrose's raw rock sound harkens back to the nascent days of Los Angeles hard-rock music while still appealing to modern listeners with their signature heart-felt rock anthems. By sticking to a classic song-writing approach reminiscent of the Eagles / Tom Petty, and using vintage California tones, Ambrose has become an unsigned crossover success, with Internet sales and downloads climbing weekly.

Press:

"A wonderful, heart-opening, passionate album of love, loss, and redemption with spangles of sunlight and shades of U2. An auspicious debut."
Jonathan Cott (Contributing Editor, Rolling Stone Magazine)

"These guys deliver the rock show. And they do it because they love it. They obviously took their cues from their predecessors. A little bit Guns N Roses, a sprinkling of Ziggy Stardust, a pinch of Led Zeppelin and then toss in a heap of rippin' guitar solos, crashing drums and Zak's power vocals and you've got yourself some Ambrose. It's American rock and roll, Sunset Strip style."
Bill McCoy (Freelance Journalist US Weekly)

"They're a throwback to the kind of old rock that you don't hear on the radio anymore, but there should be a place for this".
Kidd Kelly (PD Sirius Xm) Entertainment Weekly
